

IS THE YOUNGEST LEADING WOMAN

Helen Prindiville, Who Is Supporting Howard Kyle in "Rosemary," Lays Claim to Having that Distinction.

TWO YEARS ON THE STAGE.

Is the Daughter of a Chicago Newspaper Woman, and Was Educated in a Convent in France—Made Her Debut in the Windy City.

Helen Prindiville, supporting Howard Kyle in "Rosemary," claims the distinction of being the youngest leading woman on the American stage. Miss Prindiville is eighteen years old, and has already achieved considerable success. She is the daughter of a Chicago newspaper woman, but was educated in Paris at the Convent of the Sacred Heart. She speaks French and German fluently and is a good musician. For two seasons Miss Prindiville was with "Ben Hur" playing the part of Tirah. She made her first appearance two years ago in a Chicago production of "Lorna Doone."

Henry B. Harris will present Miss Alice Fletcher in Leo Ditrchstein's farcical comedy, "What's the Matter with Susan?" at the Bijou Theatre on Tuesday, Dec. 1. The organization will include Edith Barker, Charles Bradshaw, Myrtle Vinson, P. J. McGrane, Isabel Garrison, George Fox, Daniel Gilfeather, Morgan Coman, John S. Robertson, Harry Lillford, Edward Dresser and others.

Virginia Earle will begin her starring tour in "Sergeant Fitts" at the Manhattan Theatre, Brooklyn, next Monday night.

Max Hirschfeld, musical director of "Ebbes in Toyland," was conducting a rehearsal of the chorus and was trying to impress on the three score girls that they were not doing their best.

"I want you all to sing," he said. "Even when we do not want much volume we want all the voices. A girl who can sing and won't sing ought to be sent to Sing Sing."

"It seems to me," remarked Miss Stella Beardsley, one of the Piper children, "that a person who can't sing and will sing ought to be sent to Sing Sing."

Joseph Jefferson present tour ends Nov. 21 in Washington, after which he goes to Florida for the winter.

Musical lovers of the upper section of the city in particular are greatly interested in the forthcoming series of concerts to be given at the West End Theatre by Walter Damrosch and his New York symphony orchestra. The first of these concerts will be given Sunday, and the advance demand for seats is significant of the popularity of the concerts. The appearance of the New York Symphony Orchestra will inaugurate the musical season in Harlem, Weber & Fields having taken the initiative in the matter of furnishing high-class music at popular prices.

The second musical event of the season will be the concert at which Mme. Adina Fattal will be the soloist. This will take place on the afternoon of Nov. 27, and the world-famed songstress will be heard in a selection of melodies with which her name has been associated, and, in addition, will offer some new arias.

The Castle Square opera company, in a limited season of grand and comic operas, under direction of Henry W. Savage, follows next at the West End Theatre.

By arrangement with Henry Woodson five musical matinees will be given during the season. The dates and names of soloists will be announced later.

The opening matinee performance of Homer Lind's Lieder company, at the Manhattan Theatre has been decided. The first matinee will be given on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 17. By arrangement with Mr. Harrison Gray Fiske Mr. Lind is to present a series of these matinee performances of one-act lyric plays. These Lieder plays are given at the Lieder company's European theatres. The opening bill will be one of unusual interest, "The Return of the Soldier" by E. V. Rieu, a play never before presented in this country. It will be the first of the programme. The opera will be rendered in English, the version having been revised by Willard Holcomb. The second piece will be the one-act musical drama by Julian Edwards and Willard Holcomb, entitled "Gringore, the Street Singer." The third piece will be "Mrs. Robinson's Reception," a modern musical play by E. V. Rieu. The company includes Maud Lambert, Augusta Glose, Anna Wilson, Helena Fredericks, William Wagoner, William G. Stewart, William Dade and others. Carl Vanderlinden will be the musical director.

Frank Daniels was waylaid as he was entering the Knickerbocker building the other day by a group of brother professionals who were standing on the curb. Just then one of those big, six-horse coach affairs, filled with tourists who were "seeing New York," passed up Broadway, and the guide in stentorian tones announced:

"This, ladies and gentlemen, is New York's Riatta. Ahead of you you see some of the most famous playhouses of the metropolis. To the right you will observe a group of actors—probably unemployed Thespians who have walked in from the provinces and are waiting for footers and fortune appearance. To the left, call your attention to—" But Mr. Daniels had vanished.

GIRL FALLS FROM BICYCLE.

Agnes Nobis, Thirteen Years Old, Taken Unconscious to Hospital. Agnes N. Nobis, thirteen years old, of No. 49 Amsterdam avenue, met with an accident to-day while riding a bicycle over the recently finished Viaduct road. At the corner of One Hundred and Thirty-first street and Viaduct she fell from her wheel. The girl's injuries proved of such a nature that to-day she was taken to the J. Hood Wright Hospital. She was unconscious when picked up and in the same condition when she entered the hospital.

FELL FROM SECOND STORY.

Fred Strabel, twenty-eight years old, a fireman of Engine Company No. 23, who lives at No. 11 Chambers street, while cleaning windows on the second floor of No. 231 Spring street to-day fell to the street, and was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

SHE CLAIMS TO BE YOUNGEST OF ALL THE LEADING LADIES.

LORD ROBERTS IMPROVES.

No Complications in Pneumonia and His Recovery Expected. LONDON, Nov. 12.—Lady Roberts today said that the condition of Lord Roberts, the Commander-in-Chief, was quite satisfactory, that there were no complications, and that he was making favorable progress toward recovery. Lord Roberts contracted a chill at the unveiling Nov. 6 at Windsor of the memorial to Prince Christian Victor of Schleswig-Holstein, grandson of the late Queen Victoria, who died from fever in South Africa in October, 1900. The chill developed into pneumonia, but the Commander-in-Chief's condition thus far causes no anxiety.

MISS TWOMBLY TO WED MR. BURDEN

Engagement to Be Announced of Daughter of Hamilton McK. Twombly to Son of I. Townsend Burden.

WEDDING IN SPRING LIKELY.

Young Couple Almost Grew Up Together—Young Burden a Twelfth Regiment Lieutenant and a Graduate of Harvard University.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McK Twombly return to the city next week they will make the formal announcement of the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miss Florence Vanderbilt Twombly, to William A. M. Burden, a son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden. Intimate friends of the couple have known of the match for some time and the unofficial announcement has already been made. Miss Twombly was introduced to society two years ago at a dance given by her mother in their Fifth Avenue mansion. Her unaffected manner has made her extremely popular in society, and rumors of her engagement have been rather frequent. William Burden has been a sailor for a long time. Before she was formally introduced to the social world he knew her, for the Twomblys and Burdens are neighbors in Newport. The engagement causes no surprise to their families or their friends. The young man is a graduate of Harvard, where he was one of the most popular men in his class. After his graduation he and three of his classmates went on a trip around the world. He is second lieutenant of Company G, Twelfth Regiment, having succeeded Cornelius Vanderbilt. It is understood that the wedding will be in the spring, probably after Easter. It is sure to be one of the society events of the season, for the families of both are prominent. Miss Twombly is a granddaughter of the late William H. Vanderbilt, and consequently a niece of William K. Vanderbilt, Frederick W. Vanderbilt, George W. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, Mrs. William Douglas Sloane and Mrs. W. Seward Webb.

FOUGHT SULPHUR BLAZE.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 13.—A car load of sulphur shipped by the International Paper Company from New York City to its mills at Corinth, in this county, caught fire from locomotive sparks in the Delaware and Hudson Railroad yard to-day. Despite the fumes the flames were brought under subjection by the Fire Department.

Ready-for-Service Winter Overcoats for Men.

It is one thing to ask a man to invest his faith and dollars in what you have to offer, and another to invest your own. We have the courage of our convictions—a firm faith in the apparel which our label identifies. Our way of expressing it is rather daring. Instead of temporizing and approaching the subject of materials and models relative to quantity with the caution of the clothing man who relies upon the open market for his garments, we have to offer a variety twice greater than that of any other shop of which we know. Perhaps you know of another who can offer you Twenty styles of 42 in. Box Coats in conservative and extreme models at twelve-fifty to forty dollars, Thirty-four styles of 46 in. Box Coats in conservative and extreme models at fifteen to fifty dollars, Thirty styles of 52 and 54 in. English Great Coats at fifteen to forty dollars, Thirty-eight styles of 52 to 54 in. Belted Tourist Coats at fifteen to forty-five dollars, Twenty-eight styles of Paddock, Surtout and Paletot Coats at twenty-eight to forty-five dollars? We don't. Nor do we know of another shop which can offer you ready-for-service apparel with all the earmarks of to-measure garments—with an individuality and a distinctiveness foreign to even the average to-order apparel.
